Father Philip writes

Season of Creation.

"May our common home overflow with life once again." This is the wish expressed by Pope Francis in his message for the Season of Creation which is celebrated from the beginning of September through until October 4th, the Feast of Saint Francis of Assisi.

"God wants justice to reign," the Pope stresses, which "is essential for our proper life as children created in the image of God, no less than water is essential for our physical survival." Therefore, "justice and peace can flow, like an inexhaustible stream of pure water, nourishing humanity and all creatures." However, "the effects of war can be seen in so many rivers that are drying up," in large part, because "our rapacious consumerism, fueled by selfish hearts, which is disrupting the planet's cycle, not least of its provision of clean water."

In this way, Pope Francis denounces that it is precisely "our unbridled burning of fossil fuels and the destruction of forests that are raising temperatures and provoking great droughts", while "the terrible shortage of water increasingly besets our homes, from small rural communities to large cities and countries"

For this reason, Francis calls on "all people of good will" to bring about a "transformation of our hearts, our lifestyles and the public policies that govern our societies."

Fix the Food System - Stand in solidarity with small-scale farmers.

It's clear that our current global food system is in crisis, and at the heart of this crisis is a struggle over control of the world's seeds. Salina, a small-scale farmer from Bangladesh, has written a letter to the World Bank. This weekend after Mass there will be an opportunity to find out more and co-sign Salina's letter to show your support.
