Sunday Mass Attendance

Parishioners have asked if now that the COVID pandemic has passed, we are again obliged to participate in Mass every Sunday.

We can do no better than quote from the Catechism of the Catholic Church published under the signature of Pope John Paul in 1997.

“On Sundays and other holy days of obligation the faithful are bound to participate in the Mass. Participation in the communal celebration of the Sunday Eucharist is a testimony of belonging and of being faithful to Christ and His Church. The Sunday Eucharist is the foundation and confirmation of Christian practice. For this reason the faithful are obliged to participate in the Eucharist on days of obligation. Those who deliberately fail in this obligation commit a grave sin.” Articles 2180-2182.

This is Pope Francis' prayer intention for the month of July

Pope Francis' prayer intention for the month of July is for the pastoral care of the sick.

“The anointing of the sick is not a sacrament only for those who are at the point of death. No. It is important that this is clear,” the Holy Father said in a recent video message released.

“When the priest draws near a person to perform the anointing of the sick, it is not necessarily to help them say goodbye to life. Thinking this way means giving up every hope,” he said, adding: “It means taking for granted that after the priest the undertaker will arrive.”

The Pope urged the faithful to “remember that the anointing of the sick is one of the ‘sacraments of healing,’ of ‘restoration,’ that heals the spirit.”

“And when a person is very ill, it's advisable to give them the anointing of the sick. And when someone is elderly, it's good that they receive the anointing of the sick,” he said.

He concluded with a prayer: “Let us pray that the sacrament of the anointing of the sick grant the Lord's strength to those who receive it and to their loved ones, and that it may become for everyone an ever more visible sign of compassion and hope.”
